SSRN Proceedings

InnoTech 2026 will have a proceedings page for presented abstracts on SSRN, an open access research platform used to share early-stage research, evolve ideas, measure results, and connect scholars around the world. The proceedings will be accessible to anyone, free of charge, even to those without an SSRN account. The proceedings page will go live the week after the conference.

SSRN helps conferences and meetings share the early-stage, high-quality research presented at an event with a diverse, global audience. By establishing a permanent archive of the proceedings, the research remains accessible and discoverable long after the event, increasing visibility for both the researchers and their work.

If you would like your abstract to be included in the proceedings hosted on SSRN, please log back into the abstract submission system: (<https://app.oxfordabstracts.com/stages/80175/submitter>) by Friday, 27 March 2026 and update your submission by completing the question about SSRN to give your consent.

Once you have given consent your contact details will be passed to SSRN. They will upload your abstract to the system and send you a personal link where you can add extra resources including slides and/or a poster PDF.
