FOUNDATIONAL CONTEXT AND PROBLEM

URBAN COMMUTE AND FOOD ACCESSIBILITY CHALLENGE

Commuting Challenges in India

Commuters in major Indian cities face long, stressful travel times through congested roads and crowded trains.

Limited Food Access During Travel

Fresh food access is scarce for commuters, leading to reliance on unhealthy snacks or missed meals.

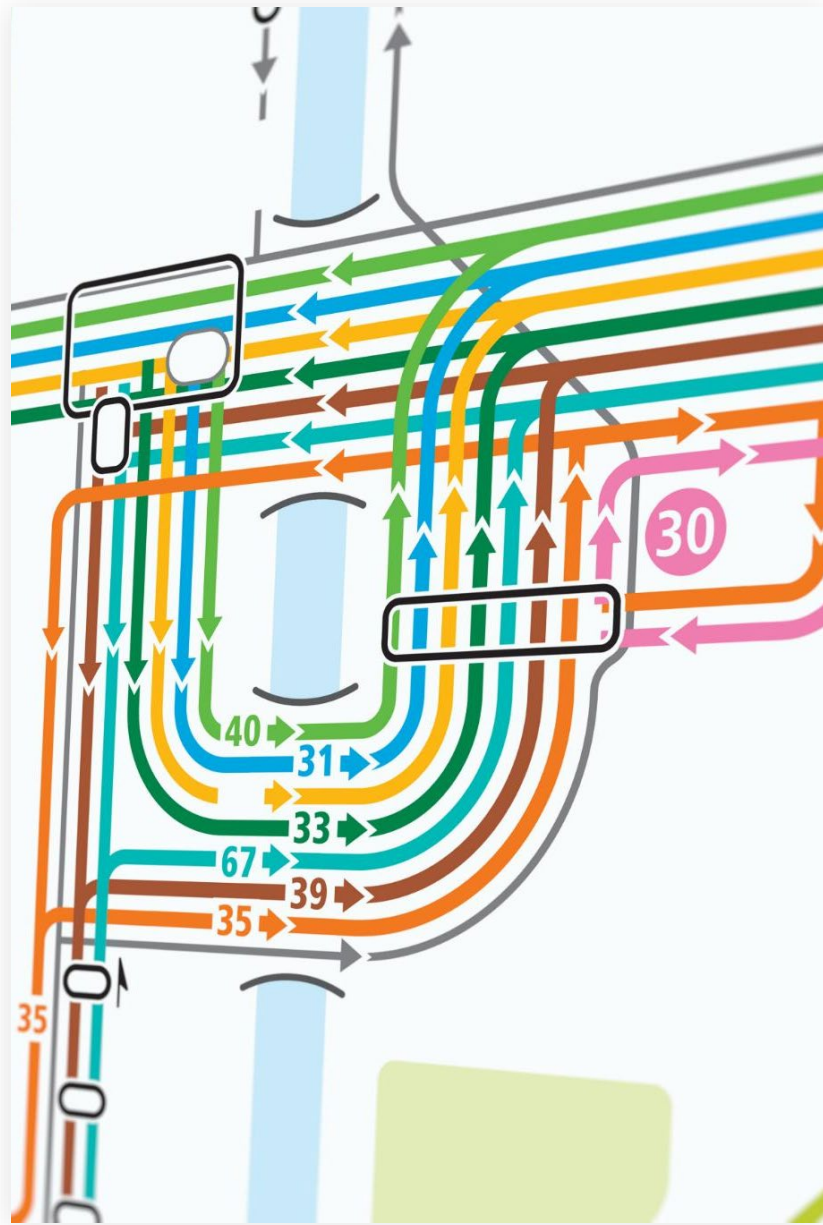

Inadequacy of Current Food Delivery

Existing food delivery platforms serve static locations, failing to meet the needs of constantly moving commuters.

Opportunity for Innovative Solutions

Addressing commuter food needs can save time, reduce stress, and improve quality of life for urban travelers.
